

BELFAST DISTRICT POLICING PARTNERSHIP

Meetings in Public in June, 2008

Would you like an improved Police Service in your local area?

Do you have any ideas about how this could be achieved?

Do you have questions you would like to ask your local Police Area Commander?

If you can answer "Yes" to any of these questions, then you should attend one of the Belfast District Policing Partnership Sub-Group Meetings in Public which will be held during June.

At each meeting in public of the Sub-Groups the local Police Area Commander will present a report on how their officers have undertaken their duties and what effect this has had on crime in their area.

Members of the public will be given the opportunity to question the Area Commander about any matter affecting the policing of the local district. However, if a full response to a specific question is expected then it will be necessary for the question to be submitted in writing or by e-mail to the District Policing Partnership Manager at the address outlined below at least 10 days prior to the date of the meeting.
