GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF QUESTIONS.

Rules of communication – clear, concise and conveys the point.

Questions should be brief to ensure that the listener does not switch off. The question should also help to focus both the writer and the receiver on the issue.

Two or more questions should be submitted on separate sheets, as opposed to one long detailed question.

Questions should relate to policing issues, not specific incidents, or relating to an on-going investigation or complaint against a police officer, as these cannot be addressed in this forum.

Assistance can be provided from the District Policing Partnership Office to assist with the writing of a question which can be presented at a subsequent meeting.
